Robert Miller Found Innocent

Held Not Guilty In Lind Slaying

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—A jury acquitted Robert I. Miller tonight on a charge of murder in the "love triangle" slaying of Dr. John E. Lind, noted psychiatrist.

The eleven men and one woman
on the jury deliberated one hour
and seventeen minutes before returning the verdict which held the 67-year-old attorney blameless when he shot Lind last February as the psychiatrist sat in an automobile
on a downtown street with Mrs.
Miller beside him.

Miller Thanks Jury
The white haired defendant received the verdict without any show of emotion and gravely thanked the jurors. Mrs. Miller, who was a witness for the defense, was not in the courtroom when the verdict was returned.

The court had left open to the jury any verdict from first degree murder with the death penalty, to acquittal or acquittal by reason of insanity.

The cast went to the jury after closing arguments in which the defense pictured Miller as a man broken by his wife's infidelity, and the prosecution described him as a calculating killer who plotted coldly
how to slay and go free.

H. Mason Welch, attorney for the 67-year-old police court lawyer, described the slain man, Dr. John E.
Lind, 57, noted psychiatrist, as a "sadist" who "used his God-given talents strictly and solely as tools
of the devil."

Lawyer Scores Miller
United States Attorney Daniel B.
Maher asserted Miller's reaction to offense was that "he wanted to be the judge and the jury, and his own executioner."

Asserting that Miller plotted the killing for days, Maher said the only thing that went wrong was that Miller did not have time to remove from his envelope the pistol
found beside Lind's body.

The psychiatrist was shot in his automobile on a downtown street
Feb. 21, just after Mrs. Miller had entered the car. The government charges that Miller planted the second weapon to back a self defense plea. Miller's claim is that Lind threatened to shoot him and made a gesture as though reaching for a gun.

British Postwar Policy Revealed

Trade Position Is Made Plain

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

LONDON, May 31.—(AP)—In advance of the peace-making, Britain's European policy appears to be aimed at consolidating her trade position from the Arctic to Africa and at developing mutual aid and economic relations with the Mediterranean seaboard countries as well as
with her continental neighbors.

This objective has been reflected in Prime Minister Churchill's foreign policy review last week, demonstrated in behind-the-scenes differences between the United States and Britain over steps to take with the Axis and in dealing with neutrals, and acknowledged privately
by high-ranking empire officials.

It is felt that this purpose motivated in part Churchill's kind words about Spain and his remark that he found it "difficult to nourish
animosity against the Italian people" and his appreciation of the Turks' "good services."

Spain perhaps has been the clearest example of British policy. There, after tenuous negotiations, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government agreed to curtail wolfram shipments to Germany in a compromise to which the United States agreed only after making it clear that it did so under British pressure.

Since the turn of the war in favor of the Allies, the United States has been calling for a "get tough" policy toward all countries selling goods
which might cost lives. Britain,
meanwhile, has been insisting that each country be treated in the light of separate considerations.

Germans Capture
2 Correspondents
Two Photographers
Also in Custody

LONDON, May 31.—(AP)—The Germans have captured two news correspondents and two photographers
who recently reached the headquarters of Marshal Tito to cover
news of the Yugoslav army of liberation, it was announced tonight.

One of the correspondents—Sto-yan Pribichevich of Time and Life
magazines—subsequently escaped.
John Talbot of Reuters, British news agency, still is believed held along with two photographers whose names were not announced pending
notification of their next of kin.

(Dispatches May 15 said photographers with the newsmen were Chief Petty Officer G. E. Fowler of
the United States navy, formerly of Los Angeles, Calif., and Sgt. Max
Slade of the British army film photographic unit.)

Pribichevich, 39 and Serbian-born, is now a naturalized American. His father was Svetozar Pribichevich,
for many years a political leader of the Serbs in Croatia, who died in exile during King Alexander's dictatorship.

Stoyan, involved in the family's political activity, escaped to Paris
in 1932 and went to the United States in 1937.

Lighted Refugee Ship Halted by Nazi Submarine

Two American Citizens Held

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—(AP)—
A fully-lighted refugee ship carrying 385 passengers was halted off Bermuda by a German submarine
last Friday, the navy disclosed today, and the U-boat abandoned preparations to torpedo the ship only after wireless orders from Berlin.

The Germans seized two American citizens, the navy said, and—in the dead of night—set all the other passengers adrift in lifeboats
for five and one-half to nine hours.
Three persons, including a sixteen-months old baby, lost their lives in the transfer to the boats.

Docks in Philadelphia
The ship was the Portuguese Ser-
pa Pinto, which docked here secre-
tely last night.

Those who died were Beatrice Trapinski, infant daughter of a Polish couple; Antonio Ferreira Machado, ship's doctor, who fell into the sea from a Jacob's ladder;
and the cook, Hermano Antonio,
struck in the head by a swinging
block of lifeboat tackle.

The American citizens captured
by the Germans were Manuel Pinto, 22, Waterbury, Conn., and Virgilio Magina, 22, New Bedford, Mass.
A British subject, Camilo Grande Perez, 24, native of Canada, also was taken aboard the submarine but was released.

The incident occurred 600 miles
east and slightly north of Bermuda,
the navy said, giving this account:
Navy's Account

"The ship was stopped by gunfire
and signals at 12:05 a. m. on a clear dark night and a calm sea.
Her captain, Americo Dos Santos,
was summoned to the bridge when blinker signals were sighted. Engines were stopped at 12:30.

"The submarine flashed 'send a boat.'"

"The chief officer Manuel Valentie Pinto, and the second officer
were sent with the ship's papers,
the ship passport, lists of crewmen,
passengers and cargo manifests.

"Pinto was held as hostage
aboard the U-boat while the ship's boat returned with a submarine officer and a sailor armed with a tommy gun.

German Lines Up Crew
The German officer, speaking English, ordered the crew and passengers lined up in the salon.
"The U-boat officer informed Captain Dos Santos that he intended to take Camilo Grande Perez, 24, native of Canada and British citizen. Perez went to his cabin and failed to reappear.

"The U-boat officer informed Dos Santos the ship would be sunk unless Perez were produced within five minutes. Search was instituted and Perez was found and put aboard
the ship's boat, which returned to the submarine with him and the two Germans at about 1:40 a. m.

Pinto returned in the boat with a message from the submarine that the vessel would be torpedoed in twenty minutes. Captain Dos Santos immediately gave the order to abandon ship. The submarine moved among the lifeboats in the darkness and during the dawn. The German commander had ordered the Serpa
Pinto not to use its wireless.

Sends Message to Berlin
"Five hours after the boats were launched, the submarine approached the captain's lifeboat and took Dos Santos aboard. Describing his interview with the U-boat commander, Dos Santos said the German appeared to be about twenty-eight years old and wore a beard.

"His rank was not learned. The U-boat officer stated that he was awaiting an answer to his radio
message to Berlin inquiring whether to sink the ship.

"Calling from the submarine deck,
Dos Santos ordered his boats to remain near the Serpa Pinto while he awaited the U-boat decision.
"At this time Perez was released
and put aboard one of the boats.

Bricker To Keep On Campaigning To Last Minute

Will Speak Right Up to Convention

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

HERSHEY, Pa., May 31.—(AP)—
Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, announced plans today for a vigorous speech-making campaign right up to the Republican national convention and again called on Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, and others to come out in the open
and discuss current issues.

Leaving the last session of the governors' conference to attend a ceremony in his honor at nearby Brickerville, Pa., named after his ancestors, the three-time governor
of Ohio, also said in an interview:
"An Affirmative Campaign"

That he is making "an affirmative campaign" for the Republican presidential nomination, while at the same time pointing out what he believes to be the "faults" of the Roosevelt administration.

That he will go to Chicago for the preliminary sessions of the convention's resolutions committee and present proposals in his capacity as chairman of the party's postwar advisory council's committee on security and social welfare.

He said he did not know whether he would attend the convention himself, opening June 26. Dewey has indicated that he will not attend the convention, but may have some platform suggestions.

Will Speak In Baltimore
Bricker said that after speaking at Lancaster, Pa., tonight he will go to Trenton, N. J., and Baltimore and wind up the week with a Connecticut address Saturday night. He will be home in Columbus, most of next week, before hitting the campaign trail again.

Elaborating on his remarks at a Sunday press conference, Bricker
told this reporter today:
"I'm not criticizing Dewey or any other candidate, but I want the leaders of the party to assume the responsibility of presenting the issues honestly and frankly."

Gov. Dewey Agrees
Dewey, who has been accorded several public demonstrations during his moving about at the governors' conference, says he agrees with Bricker that the issues should be discussed. But he still maintains that he is not seeking the nomination. He told reporters Sunday night he welcomes the opportunity to talk about all things provided they relate to his job as governor of New York. The New Yorker also disclosed he has no speaking engagements anywhere before the national convention.

Bituminous Mines
Returned to Owners
WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes today returned to private ownership coal mines producing sixty per cent of the nation's bituminous coal.

He declared that management
and labor "are now on trial to prove to the nation that they can fulfill wartime responsibilities under their own power."

Today's action left in the government's possession only the anthraxite mines, the mines of the Southern Coal Producers' Association, and certain scattered operations on which word is awaited
as to execution of the new wage contract recently approved by the War Labor Board.

Cabinet Re-Elected
DUBLIN, May 31.—(AP)—Eire voters
re-elected Prime Minister Eamon

cabinet members in the general election Tuesday, early returns
showed tonight, and De Valera's Fianna Fail party apparently has been assured of a majority in the Dail (Parliament).

Few Are Found
By Fifth Army
By EDWARD KENNEDY
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN
THE LEPINI MOUNTAINS, May 31.—(AP)—Not a single important fascist has been captured in the current Allied offensive for the simple reason that the local moguls of Mussolini's fascist "republic" are going northward well ahead of the German army.

If the conduct of these dignitaries runs true to form, not many will be found in Rome when the Allies
enter.

It is not that they are so afraid of what the occupying army might do to them, but rather that in these mountain towns they have been more worried over the possible in-term between the departure of the Germans and the arrival of the Americans, giving the townspeople
a brief opportunity to settle scores.

"Oh, yes, we find fascist officials
in these towns, but we never find important fascists," said an Allied military government officer who has inaugurated a new regime in half a dozen Lepini mountain towns.
"and the ones we find say they were fascists only because they had to be fascists to hold their jobs."

Shipyard Fraud Charged to 100

Workers Accused By F.B.I. Chief

BOSTON, May 31.—(AP)—More than 100 shipyard workers at the Bethlehem-Hingham plant, where vessels are being constructed for the navy, were arrested today on charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

Federal Bureau of Investigation
men termed it "the most extensive
war fraud racket of its type uncovered by the FBI."

The arrested men included counters and welders. Boston FBI Chief E. A. Soucy said the former agreed with piece work welders to record
false credit while the latter kicked back a share of the wages received for work not done.

Made $75 a Week Extra
In some cases, Soucy added, individuals received as high as $75 a week extra and government officials
believed overpayments would total
more than $500,000.

Some of the workers were taken into custody by FBI agents and deputy United States marshals as they left the plant this morning.
Others were arrested as they reported for the next shift. And still others were taken at their homes.

All day, in small groups, the 109 men arrested so far were taken for arraignment before United States Commissioner William C. Rogers and were released in bail ranging from $500 to $1,000 for hearing later.

Small Percentage Involved
W. H. Collins, general manager of the shipyard, said that he would like to point out "on behalf of our 20,000 employees," that the number arrested was a very small percentage of the total employed.

FBI men said that some of the workers had formed clubs — each comprising one or two counters and from three to thirty welders. There were about thirty such groups, they added.

While the majority of those arrested were charged with conspiracy, some were accused specifically of causing false claims to be presented.

Allies in Accord On Postwar Plans

Will Give Small Nations a Voice

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The four leading Allied powers are believed by informed officials here tonight to see eye to eye already on many points of postwar world organization—including particularly the assurance of an adequate voice
to small nations.

This is a major factor behind the apparent feeling of confidence in high quarters that the forthcoming Washington conversations among the United States, Britain, Russia and China can make progress toward an effective world organization to secure peace.

Plan Fall Meeting
The Big Four meeting probably will be held in the late summer or fall. Such differing views as do come up may be focused initially on the question of how to draw upon and apply the force of the United States, China, Russia and Britain and of other participating nations for suppressing future
threats to world order.

The British in the past have indicated a greater willingness to delegate final authority to an international agency than the United States government has shown any intention of doing. The American plan for an international agency
provides a consultative formula
under which the final decision on the use of any country's forces
would be up to that country's own
government.

Five Main Points
This plan, covering five main points, will be submitted to big-four representatives in its simplest and most concise form as a draft of an organization capable of growing with experience and meeting
any international crises so long as the great nations backing it stick together.

These nations, however, need the full co-operation of small countries.
In the opinion of Secretary Hull and President Roosevelt; and they believe this view is generally acceptable to the great powers.

President Roosevelt says the American program still is subject to change and capable of vast improvement. Hull has told reporters
he would welcome all new ideas
that people may send him in preparation for the forthcoming
meeting.

Co-operative Program of Public Services Favored by Governors
HERSHEY, Pa., May 31.—(AP)—A co-operative program of public services by the federal, state and local governments was demanded by the national conference of governors today to end what a resolution termed duplication, waste and confusion.

The state executives, closing their thirty-sixth annual meeting, also called for quick action by the federal government on plans for a postwar public works program and reconversion of industry to peace time activity.

The governors said that federal and state public works programs
should be co-ordinated and that the states were far along in their plans.
The resolution laid down six
principles:

Greatest Blows Of War Struck At Nazi Coast

Long-Range Guns Heavily Bombed

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Thursday, June 1, (AP)— Following up a tremendous daylight
aerial assault on Hitler's Europe
from the west and south by possibly 3,500 Allied planes, RAF night raiders smashed at the French coast
from Calais to Cape Gris Nez early today with its heaviest bombing of the war.

The mightiest blows yet struck at the Nazis' vaunted westwall reverberated across the channel like an earthquake, echoing through the night with great, repeated blasts.

Bomb Long-Range Guns
The targets appeared to be the German long-range guns which often have shelled the Dover district.

The moon and the stars shone
over the channel as the fleet of British bombers thundered across the little strip of water, seemingly flying lower than usual.

Flares were dropped soon after the planes had passed from sight
and as the unnatural glare showed
on the horizon German ack-ack gun fire sounded.

The noise of this barrage seemed to die as the bombs dropped, touching off great bolts of fire one after another.

The attack, like the four which preceded it in the same region, was as short as it was sharp and a little more than fifteen minutes
after the blasting began the planes streaming back to their bases.

Although there was scarcely a breeze over the channel the backfire from the blasts miles away at times felt like giant puffs of warm
wind upon the faces of observers.

New Month Starts
The newest night assault on the Germans' anti-invasion defenses
gave the Nazis an ominous introduction to a new month's aerial campaign within a matter of hours
after the Allies had completed a record-breaking sustained air attack
in which 146,000 sorties were flown.

The climax to the May operations
was another combined maneuver in which bombers from Britain hit German railway centers while planes
from Italy struck again at the Ploesti oil fields of Romania.

In skies virtually clear of the enemy and at a cost of one bomber
and four fighters, from 750 to 1,000
American heavyweights from Britain pounded crowded railway yards at Hann, Osnabruck, Schwerie and Soesttransport centers just inside
Germany which feed the coastal defense zones.

Bomb 35 Locomotives
For the fourth consecutive day
more than 1,200 fighters flew escort but finding no opposition in the air they swooped down and shot
up more than thirty-five locomotives
and aircraft parked on airfields.

Late in the day Thunderbolt and Lightning fighter-bombers attacking
two Western German airbases struck the first five-fighter opposition, thirty FW-190s, and shot down five without loss to themselves.

Smoke clouds visible for miles
rolled up from the Ploesti fields
after upward of 750 Fortresses and Liberalors from Italy dropped their cargoes of destruction, hitting at least one major refinery. It was the third straight day of big bomber attack on Central Europe from the south.

Browns Tie Yankees
ST. LOUIS, May 31.—(AP)—The St.
Louis Browns jumped into a first place tie with the New York Yankees tonight as they won their third straight game from the Washington Senators on an unearned run in the last half of the eleventh inning. The score was 4 to 3.

To Take Army Exam

CLEVELAND, May 31—(P)—Russ Peters, Cleveland Indians second baseman, has been notified to report for a pre-induction physical examination at his Roanoke, Va., draft board next Monday. Manager Lou Boudreau announced today.

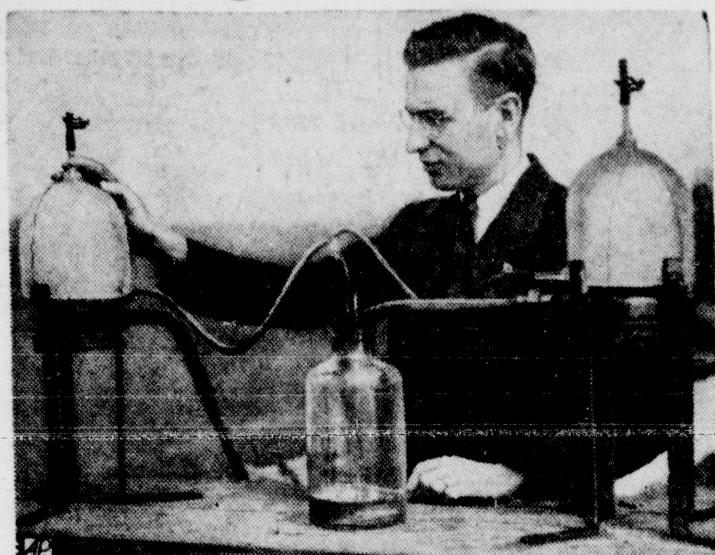

Now I don't dread "That Time" of the Month

Periodic functional pains don't worry me now. Thanks to those grand new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills! My druggist tells me the reason they're so effective is because of a special ingredient which is intended to help relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by helping to relax the affected part—not merely by deadening pain. The new Chi-Ches-Ters contain an added iron factor, too, intended to act as a tonic on your blood. Try the new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills on your "difficult days." Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size and follow directions on the package.

SUN GAGE—Joseph E. Howland, research assistant in charge of light-intensity studies at Cornell university, examines the protecting domes of the graphic light meters on the roof of the Department of Floriculture greenhouses.

By LINDSLEY H. CROCKER

ITHACA, N. Y.—Light-intensity studies under way at Cornell university demonstrate why certain garden flowers bloom early and well in the northeastern states, but do not blossom until summer in "sunny" Florida. The studies are made with the use of a graphic light-meter, created by Kenneth Post, associate professor of ornamental horticulture, and Maurice W. Nixon, a rural service engineer.

The meter, in operation since March, 1937, measures light intensity from one-half to 10,000-foot candles with a photo-electric recorder. Daily records are kept by Joseph E. Howland, research assistant in the Department of Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture, who is in charge of the work.

"The photo-electric cell," Howland explains, "is sensitive only to wave lengths in visible and ultra-violet radiation. Physicists and astronomers use heat absorption techniques because they are interested in the so-called total energy of radiation from the sun. The visible and ultra-violet wave lengths are thought to be the most important in plant responses."

"Many common garden flowers, such as China asters and annual larkspur, flower only under daylong conditions. In the northeast, the summer days are long and the plants flower well, but the days in Florida are never long enough to make these plants bloom until the summer. Few people remember that 'sunny' Florida actually has short winter days."

Several years ago, Howland says,

a Long Island florist lost thousands of dollars when he started a ten-acre project in Florida to grow, in the winter, China asters and annual larkspur for shipment to New York City. The days were far too short and no flowers were ever produced.

"Zinnias and marigolds are examples of common garden flowers which bloom more profusely in Florida than in the northeast," Howland continues, "but the plants start flowering on dwarf six-to-eight-inch high plants and never attain more size."

"The short days in the north produce a large amount of vegetative growth and some flowering. Then our long summer days produce a large number of flowers on these by-then large plants."

What Happened At Teheran

DISCUSSING the international situation with a representative of this newspaper some time ago, a distinguished citizen of the United States declared that President Roosevelt had "sold us down the river" at Teheran and that we would realize it when all the facts came out.

At that time little was known as to what actually took place at the meeting between Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt at Teheran. Since then, however, two revealing articles on the subject by Forest Davis, said to have been presidentially inspired, have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post and in a subsequent issue an analysis thereof by Demaree Bess, an associate editor of the Post.

In the Davis articles what was termed Roosevelt's Great Design for the postwar world was set forth. That was to be a loose association of the United Nations all dependent upon the good will and wisdom of three great powers—Great Britain, Russia and the United States—in which all the military and economic power of the world would be concentrated with the United States playing the part of a balance wheel or buffer between the other two. The essence of Teheran was that Roosevelt gambled everything on the hope that Soviet Russia could be lured back into the "family of nations," to which end the president appears to have gone the limit of appeasement with Stalin.

How far the president thus proceeded is told by Bess. Churchill, it seems, stood as ever for protecting the traditional interests of the British empire; Stalin "extracted a down payment" from the United States and appears to have got it with trimmings; everything was settled in Stalin's favor and the postwar world was placed upon an entirely new basis with Britain and Russia entering into an understanding having the effect of dividing Europe into spheres of influence. Engrossed almost wholly upon appeasing Stalin, Roosevelt did not challenge Stalin's claims upon Western Europe under the latter's interpretation of the Atlantic Charter, whereupon Stalin proceeded on a course of aggressive diplomacy with no word of protest from Roosevelt.

Thus, while the other two partners in the postwar settlement went ahead with their understanding, the United States continued passive although Mr. Roosevelt actually made himself a party to the settlements by raising no protest against them. And in thus committing the American people to this world system without their having anything to do about the arrangement, the observation to which reference is made in the foregoing seems to have been rather appropriate.

Much criticism has been aroused against the Roosevelt commitments thus disclosed. "In general," Bess says, "the opposition has come from two groups. The first are the idealists, who object to the sacrifice of principle for the purpose of international compromises. The second are the hard-headed realists, who do not ask 'Shall we compromise our principles?' but 'Can we afford to pay the price demanded for Russia and Britain's cooperation in a three-power world.'" This, he says, is the essential question American voters must answer at the coming election because "it is evident that President Roosevelt's eagerness to lure Russia back into the 'family of nations' now overshadows every other idea in his mind."

Teheran "has brought us into the three-power world, which is viewed as the foundation for future world peace and for some kind of society of nations," Bess says. "It casts the American people in a difficult role, a role with which we are entirely unfamiliar. Nothing in our history has prepared us to act as the balance wheel in a balance-of-power world, and our system of government was not designed to facilitate our performance of this role. The stresses and strains of recent months reflect the difficulties of readjustment."

But, if the Great I Am idea, the theory of an indispensable man perpetuating himself in our presidency, is permitted to prevail, then it would seem that we are in for such readjustment whether we like it or not; in short, we shall have to take it and like it. But perhaps we shall do neither.

Two Things That Don't Make Sense

APPEARING RECENTLY before the House Banking committee, Chester Bowles, Administrator of OPA, told the members of that committee that a return to general meat rationing was a possibility within thirty days. But the price administrator hedged his prediction somewhat and allowed ed plenty of leeway as to the time by making this qualification, "I am quite confident we will have to have rationing again of meat in thirty, sixty or ninety days, or maybe it will be January or February."

Contrast this prediction with the report released at the same time by the War Food Administration which showed that the stocks of meat in storage throughout the country on May 1 were at the highest level for that date since 1920.

Meat in storage on May 1, 1944, totalled 1,215,501,000 pounds, as compared with 714,612,000 pounds on May 1 a year ago.

Viewed together the opinion and the report don't seem to make sense.

And Now We Face A Flour Crisis

THERE IS STILL a small stock pile of wheat in the country, but it is predicted that many flour mills will close down in the next few weeks for lack of grain. Farmers aren't selling. Their stocks are running low and they do not like the ceiling price.

The new harvest will swell supplies beginning July 1, but this will not automatically solve the millers' problem. New grain must be mixed with old to produce a satisfactory blend for bakers. Normally mills start at harvest time to use ten per cent new wheat and ninety per cent old. The proportion of new wheat is stepped up gradually.

The government's Commodity Credit Corporation, which holds approximately 125,000,000 bushels of old wheat, could come to the rescue of the mills, but it has been holding the wheat for livestock feed. Large bakers will feel the flour shortage most acutely. Many of them have bought ahead well into July, but millers will lack the wheat to fill these contracts.

From Western Kansas comes news that sod again is being plowed up. Apparently landowners believe the current price ceiling on wheat cannot hold and that wheat planted this coming autumn will command a much higher price.

Indispensable Only In Ignorant Eyes

IT IS ODD that some advocates of a fourth term do not believe President Roosevelt is indispensable. Senator "On-Again-Off-Again" Barkley admitted in a recent magazine article that Roosevelt is not an indispensable man. The senator says he doesn't think anyone is indispensable.

Likewise, Charles Michaelson, the New Deal smear artist, admits in his book, "The Ghost Talks," that Roosevelt is nothing more nor less than another politician. He makes it plain that he thinks the politician in the White House is very dispensable.

In other words, the only people who are supposed to think F. D. R. is indispensable are the voters who don't know him.

One of the best informed Democrats in Washington is quoted as stating that "President Roosevelt is one of the greatest politicians and one of the worst administrators the world has ever seen." That's his opinion, and he covers a lot of territory—but millions of voters have come to the same conclusion and will not be inclined to challenge this prominent Democrat's appraisal of the New Dealers' indispensable man.

A German Paul Revere will have to take a long breath and shout: "The British, Yanks, Russians, French, Canadians, Aussies, Indians, Dutch, Poles, Belgians, Senegalese and Serbs are coming."

The Mexican government is trying to abolish that terrific time-waster, the mid-day siesta. Another good idea would be to move the Mexicans' manana up twenty-four hours.

"Cactus Jack" Garner is no longer active in politics, but other Texas Democrats seem to be able to read his thoughts.

The Nazis in Italy are staging one of those disengaging movements as planned.

There's a Tide--

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I have been to the shores of the oceans and I have seen the tide.

I have seen it ebbing. I have seen it flowing, seen it drifting back from the solid land, seen it rushing shoreward with more than the force of 10,000 furious elephants.

And the shore, when the tide was out, was flat and desolate and dirty. Drifted things lay there; broken shells and skulking creatures and odd small treasures were all about; the beach was an abandoned battlefield. But I waited and soon I felt a movement out there in the sea.

I saw the waves higher and coming closer. The great force of the pale day-moon was reaching and drawing the waters to me. The tide was coming in. . . . I knew it would. It had always come and gone out and come in again. And the tide would always be, as long as the moon stood in the heavens.

The tide is always there. It is in little ponds, in streams, in lakes. The great Michelson measured it even in a narrow pan. . . . And some day some great man may measure it even in solid things like rock and steel and children's building blocks.

And I'm sure there's a tide, too, in human beings—in men and women who think all things are exactly what they seem. Who think heightened joy will last forever, and deep despair will never go away from them. But there's a tide.

There are moments and hours and days when that tide is out in the human heart and all the weakness and pettiness of life is laid bare for all to see. But the tide turns—and on the shore there is a great rush of waters and in the human heart there is a rush of hope and health, a new belief, and a new confidence. And the meanness is washed away and the poisons are cleaned away and the small wreckage of living vanishes into the deep.

Whether you believe in that tide or defy it with skepticism, it exists. It does and it returns. It leaves you strangled and it picks you up again. It is stronger than you and stronger than your lonely bitterness. It will return and wash you clean again—some day when you least expect it—that great Tide!

Army-Navy Merger Suggests a Single Legislative Body

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The "merger" and "consolidation" urge seems to be on again in government. The latest idea is to merge the War and Navy departments under a single "secretary of armed services."

Back in 1929, private industry got very enthusiastic about mergers, and when the crash came it was discovered that many organizations had grown too big to be handled by a single supervisory group of executives. In fact, decentralization has since started in many industries with a result that is deemed far better than that which prevailed before 1929.

But speaking of mergers and consolidations, there are a good many people who are wondering why it is necessary to have a Senate and a House of Representatives. If Congress is really interested in efficiency it could merge the upper and the lower houses and save the taxpayers a considerable amount of money. The state of Nebraska used to have two houses, but now gets along with a single legislative body. Also, in the Senate and House there are two restaurants and one probably could serve both.

More Duplication at Hand

If the legislators are serious in trying to avoid duplications in government they will find much more to do in the legislative halls about duplicating committees than in trying to upset the army and the navy, especially in the middle of war.

There are two sets of committees, for instance, taking up a lot of time dealing with the same problems of both the House and the Senate, and, on paper at least, the consolidation of all these committees would save a lot of time and would avoid duplication of expense and time.

There are, on the other hand, many Americans who are not so much interested in what efficiency looks like on paper, but they believe in specialization. Some of these observers have thought it is probably a good thing to have the Senate and the House separate because each represents a different viewpoint and a different approach. Legislation in the people's interests is too important perhaps to be hurried through a single chamber.

Long-Standing Reasons

Thus, there are many arguments that might be made for the evidence of duplication between the War and Navy departments, but over a long period of years reasons have developed for the separate services which are not just paper reasons. They have their roots in the differing methods of the two organizations.

Even in the matter of purchases it would seem at first glance that there is duplication between the War and Navy departments. But the needs for the products that are bought will differ in the case of the army and the navy.

When all the advantages and disadvantages of various kinds of airplane engines have been analyzed it will be found that the Navy department's primary use of the engine differs from the army's.

But someone might argue that both the army and the navy must take the same kind of airplane engine. It is precisely this kind of standardization which might appear as if it were efficient in one case but it could really mean disruption and a retardation of scientific progress.

Lessons Are Pending

It is regrettable that anyone in Congress is pushing at this time the passage of legislation to merge the army and navy, especially when the lessons of the present war have not yet been fully disclosed. Thus, the organization of an army of seven and a half million men is in itself a task that has been regarded by some observers as too big. There is one school of thought which thinks the present army organization is

BAPTISTS' CHOICE

Being somewhat vague on that point, the Wagner act has given rise to numerous disputes over free speech for employers, as differentiated from discrimination, coercion and intimidation. Since the act was passed nine years ago, the national labor relations board has shown a tendency to place a different interpretation upon speech freedom as it applies to employers and employees. While workers have been permitted to make almost any statement about employers and their policies, the employers often have had reason to fear that even a defensive answer to these charges would result in NLRB charges of violating the Wagner act. Testifying before a senate committee in 1939, J. Warren Madden, then chairman of the board, declared that an employer who called a union leader a Communist might be held guilty of coercion under the Wagner act, even though his statement was true.

It is doubtful that congress intended to abridge the right of free speech, and yet, in its present form

the act can be so construed in some cases.

By a two-thirds vote, the house of representatives once included in several proposed amendments to the Wagner act one which would have left no doubt as to the meaning intended, but administration pressure caused it to be buried in committee in the senate.

The need for such an amendment is indicated by the fact that the Philadelphia court was called upon for such an opinion, if, indeed, it has not been made obvious by previous disputes.

HOPE SHE WON'T MIND SHARING A ROOM WITH HER FELLOW TRAVELERS

Cash Hoard and Shortage of Goods Will Provide Postwar Jobs, Paul Mallon Says

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Every-one seems inclined to worry about postwar jobs.

A guiding line of national thought has been established in that direction. The president is talking and Congress is acting as if there may be widespread unemployment, unless great steps are taken.

Stock marketeers anticipate some kind of depression. Some large investors have gotten out of the market in anticipation. The CIO is making politics out of the situation, "educating" the public to believe there will be no jobs for returning soldiers unless their men get into every office.

In some degree, all the front page news of speeches and statements reflect this outlook—an outlook which is strained and fanciful when measured against the provable, but not widely recognized facts.

Bank Deposits Away Up

The truth is bank deposits have been rising lately at the rate of $200,000,000 a week—cash in the hands of the people is being stored at that amazing rate. The total of bank deposits now is above $110,000,000,000. In addition there is $20,000,000,000 (yes, billions) of cash held outside the banks.

The amount of cash thus stored by the people already in this war is above $130,000,000,000—good spendable long green money with no strings on it, a stack higher than the people ever held before, nearly two and a half times as much as they had in the big boom year of 1929.

The dean of government economists, E. A. Goldenwiser, of Federal Reserve, said in a speech to the Illinois bankers last week the "unprecedented rise in bank deposits" would reach $125,000,000,000 and $150,000,000,000 by the end of this war. He estimated war expenditures to date at $210,000,000,000.

War Bonds, Too

Now, in addition, the people hold war bonds already amounting to more than $70,000,000,000, bonds which can be cashed for postwar spending.

Thus the amount of spendable money and bonds in private hands today amounts to more than $200,000,000,000, practically the same amount as the government has spent on the war.

It may be unbelievable but it is true—the private purse today already has swollen to the unprecedented fatness of the government war cost so far, and this trend will continue. It will be $250,000,000,000 by the end of the war.

As everyone knows, furthermore, the people are short every item of living. Together this vast hoard of

Detroit Is Sitting Upon Dynamite, Pettengill Says

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

DETROIT, May 31.—Shall labor unions take over the management of industry? This is the question behind the foreman's strike. The issue has been shelved for the moment but it is boiling underneath this strike-ridden town where men have stopped making penicillin, the wonder drug that saves wounded men from death.

Foremen are the front line of management. If they are unionized, the unions sit on both sides of the table. Then, as superintendents and managers are promoted from the ranks of foreman, the next step will be to unionize the superintendents, and so on to the top.

The traditional and wise policy of union labor under Sam Gompers and William Greer, has been to neither ask for nor accept union responsibility for management. But that was before the C. I. O. and the Communists had become a powerful pressure group.

Movement Long Underway

The American Communist party has been dissolved in order to throw its entire strength to the fourth term under the leadership of Comrade Browder. But to get the background of the foreman's strike, we must go back to the Communist platforms of a few years ago and to the workers' councils in Russia, and then to the demands two years ago, by Walter Reuther and others, for a constantly increasing union participation in management.

Probably only a small minority of the Detroit foremen think in these terms. With them it was largely a matter of more pay, seniority, and the struggle for fat jobs in the union hierarchy. Some of the foremen had legitimate grievances. They felt they were the forgotten men. Many would honestly deny any motivation from Communist dogma.

The logic of events, however, is more important than motives. Behind honest men you always find cunning men with revolution in their hearts. There is dynamite beneath Detroit.

For example, with the foreman off duty and the workers without supervision, a labor party said conditions in the plant were ideal—"no bosses anywhere."

Questionable Pay-off

It is bad enough to have vital war production held up and General Arnold pleading with strikers to go back to making fighter planes for fighting men. It is tragic that the foreman's leader said that Gen. Arnold's plea left him cold but that they were going back to work only because they thought the War Labor Board would be friendly to their cause. But the war will end some day. Patriotism will then speak with muted voice. If the C. I. O. Political Action Committee succeeds in taking over the Democratic party, and becomes dominant in the next administration, what will the pay-off be?

With the unions beginning to take over management, with their demands that the government continue ownership of its huge war plants; with wages going up and dividends going down; with business taxes maintained at vindictive levels where is the money coming from to reconstruct industry to peace and buy the new tools to provide the new jobs in postwar America?

Will private investors risk their savings in such a cold climate? Or will they again seek the cyclone cellar of government bonds or the long-green in the mattress?

If the latter, then the government becomes the sole banker of industry. More bonds, more debt, more greenbacks, more inflation, Management Essential

You can't invade Europe or play big-time baseball without management. For this reason, neither the army, navy, War Labor Board, National Labor Relations Board, Congress, nor industry can afford to concede the principle involved in the foreman's strike to unionize. Legitimate grievances, if any, may be adjusted, but that line must be held. For on it depends the successful management of business, and on business success depend jobs and pay envelopes.

It is impossible that millions of patriotic working men are not beginning to see where radical—if not Communist leadership is taking them. If they fail to recognize it, time, we may witness a tragedy in postwar America—a peacetime potential, capable of prosperity and progress such as the world has never dreamed, but a potential made static and dead by a Communist program which will prevent men, machines and investors from meshing their gears.

You may say I am an alarmist. I am alarmed. I have just been in Detroit.

Sound recording by magnetism on fine steel wire may possibly supplant Braille as the vehicle for books for the blind.

A half-pound of steel wire used in magnetic sound recording is more than two miles long and records 66 minutes of sound.

Only eight of the last fifteen chiefs of staff of the United States Army have been graduates of West Point.

Praise of the wise and good! It is a need for which I would long years of toil endure, which many a peril, many a grief would cure.

Victory Garden Campaign Falls Short of Goal

Survey Shows One Million Fewer Gardens In Middle Atlantic States

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 30—In the New England and Middle Atlantic states there are today roughly one million fewer gardens planted than at about this time last year. In this area today, the Gallup Poll finds about 3,000,000 families have planted vegetable gardens, as compared to 4,000,000 who had planted gardens at about this time last year.

Throughout the country as a whole, on the basis of victory gardens planted so far, this year's victory garden campaign is short of its goal, in spite of the intensive efforts of the National Garden Advisory Committee.

As of today the Gallup Poll finds that only about 17,500,000—roughly one-half of all United States families—have planted vegetable gardens. The goal of the Garden committee this year is 22,000,000, or roughly a million and a half more than were planted during 1943.

About two and one half million other families say they still intend to plant gardens, but even assuming all of these families carry out their intention, the victory garden total will come to only about 20,000,000—two million short of the goal.

Victory Garden campaign officials have pointed out that adverse weather conditions in the central section of United States and a late spring in the northern, especially the north eastern, section has delayed garden plantings. These factors may account in part for the present lag.

Approximately two and one half million families say that while they had gardens last year, they do not intend to plant any this year. When field reporters asked these people why they do not intend to plant anything this year, nearly half said they now have no space. Most of the others said they are too busy with their regular work and have no time for a garden or said they felt their gardens last year weren't worth the effort.

Twelve million of the gardens already planted are located in farm areas or in towns with population of less than 10,000. Three million more are located in cities with populations from 10,000 to 100,000. Only two and one-half million of the gardens are located in cities with populations over 100,000.

SECTIONAL DISTRIBUTION OF GARDENS

In the five principal sections of the country, vegetable gardens are distributed as follows:

BY SECTIONS	GARDENS IN NOW
New Eng. and Middle Atlantic (Me., Vt., N. H., R. I., Conn., Mass., N. Y., N. J., Pa., Md., Del., W. Va.)	3,000,000
Central (Mich., Ohio, Ind., Ill., Wis., Mo., Iowa, Minn., N. Dak., S. Dak., Neb., Kan.)	6,000,000
South (Tex., Okla., Ark., La., Miss., Ala., Ga., Fla., S. C., N. C., Tenn., Ky., Va.)	6,000,000
Mountain and Far West (N. M., Colo., Wyo., Mont., Idaho, Utah, Ariz., Nev., Calif., Ore., Wash.)	2,500,000
TOTAL	17,500,000

SIGHTLESS LEADER MAKES BLIND BOYS GOOD SCOUTS

By BETTY PROSSER
AP Features

CHICAGO—A blind man is teaching nine sightless boys to "Be Prepared"—for scouting and for life.

He is Fred Bolotin, head of the nation's only blind scout troop led by a blind scoutmaster. With the aid of his wife, also blind, he has served as instructor, leader and friend to more than 200 blind Boy Scouts since 1936.

The boys of Chicago's Troop 300 read their scout handbook in Braille; they signal by Morse code instead of flags; they make maps in Braille with a tracing wheel.

They do leather, wood, bead and needlework. They attend summer camp with normal boys, and participate in all activities except those connected with trail blazing. Two boys in the present troop are preparing to take tests for the top honor rank of Eagle scout.

Escorts Necessary

It costs $10.50 every time a weekly meeting is held, to pay escorts. These men pick up and return the boys—their homes are scattered over twenty-two miles of the city. Troop 300 is thus the most expensive troop in the world.

Bolotin, 59, who owns and operates his own broom and brush business, says his alumni include several lawyers, piano tuners and war workers. One leads an orchestra in a Loop cocktail lounge, another operates a refreshment stand in a government building, and a third teaches soldiers to repair radios in the dark.

Organized in 1922, Troop 300 was first headed by Bolotin's brother, a blind heart specialist who died in 1924. Fred took over in 1926 after a series of sighted scoutmasters had come and gone.

"The most important thing we teach our scouts is to be absolutely fearless," Bolotin says. "At camp near Whitehall, Mich., each boy must climb a tree. Although sighted officials have been alarmed, we haven't had an accident in eighteen summers."

Learn Way Soon

The blind boys soon learn their way about the camp without aid, Bolotin said, and one was nicknamed "the monkey" because he liked to climb a tree in the heavy woods, then swing through the branches until he descended from another tree.

They have a sense of humor and are not sensitive about their handicap. One summer the boys lined up, chain gang style (each with a hand on the shoulder of the boy ahead of him) to go swimming. The leader followed a guide-rope. A blind prankster in the troop, however, had cut the rope. The leader fell, and fifteen boys piled on top of him. When they scrambled up the blind humorist tapped the leader on the shoulder.

"What's the matter with you?" he asked. "Can't you see where you're going?"

Carloadings Show Increase of 77,835

Carloads handled by the Baltimore and Ohio in the week ended May 27, 1944, totaled 77,835 made up of 48,531 loaded on line and 29,304 received from connections. This was an increase of 4,069 over the same week last year when the total was 73,766 consisting of 43,347 loaded on line and 30,419 received from connections.

The preceding week, (the week ended May 20), the total was 76,995 including 48,428 loaded on line and 28,567 received from connections. Carloads handled during the same week of 1930 were 60,616 comprising 38,615 loaded on line and 22,001 received from connections.

City Heads Get Annual Report of Public Library

Income of $14,105.40 and expenses totaling $12,100.49 were shown in the annual report of the Cumberland Free Public Library for the year ending April 1, submitted to mayor and council Monday.

Expenses were divided as follows: salaries, $5,241.45; janitor, $1,263.53; book mending and clerical help, $1,189.63; books and periodicals, $2,494.33.

A total of $149.29 of the Ferman C. Pugh fund was spent, leaving a balance of $69.76. Books added during the year totaled 4,574, making a total of 32,292 books on hand. The daily average circulation was 364 books. Adult circulation for the year was 45,586 and the juvenile was 65,152.

Unless public-spirited citizens come to the aid of the library, further city aid will be necessary, Mayor Thomas S. Post commented.

Australia has a bombardier beetle (Pherosophus verticalis) which emits a little cloud of acid vapor to disable temporarily its enemies.

French Shaffer, Elkins Dispatcher, Is Taken by Death

Veteran Railway Employee Was Ill Six Weeks at His Home

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, May 31 — French Shaffer, 52, chief dispatcher for the Western Maryland Railway Company, died at his home in Elkins Sunday morning, at 2:18, following a six-week illness, which started with a streptococcus infection.

He was born in Tucker county, near Parsons, November 22, 1891, the son of the late Andrew and Alice Murphy Shaffer. He attended school in Parsons, and at the age of eighteen began working for the Western Maryland Railroad Company.

He is survived by his wife, the former Effie Stump, of Parsons, and he and his wife went to Elkins twenty-eight years ago.

An only child, Robert Shaffer, a corporal in the United States army, has been stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla., and is being transferred to Fort Meade, Md.

Mr. Shaffer was prominent in Masonic circles, being a past master of Elkins Lodge No. 108, A. F. and A. M. high priest, of Elkins Chapter No. 35, Royal Arch Masons, and past commandary No. 21, Knights Templars.

Besides his wife and son he is survived by one brother, J. Lloyd Shaffer, of Baltimore; two sisters, Mrs. Roy Leonard, of Beverly and Mrs. J. Beaty Pyles, of Front Royal, Va.

Presumes Soldier Dead

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Sheets, of Parsons, were notified yesterday by the War department that due to the long absence of their son, Private

Cecil Raymond Sheets, a presumptive finding of death has been made. Pvt. Sheets was in the Philippines at the fall of Corregidor and since then has been carried by the War department as "Missing in action."

He was eighteen when he enlisted in the army in June 1939. He attended Parsons high school until his enlistment.

Pvt. Sheets has three brothers, Russell Sheets, seaman first class; Pvt. William Harold Sheets, Camp Clairbourne, La., and Ronald Sheets, of Parsons. One sister, Mrs. Opal M. Beien, was honored by high officials in Washington, D. C., two years ago, when she was chosen as Miss 10,000.

Pvt. Sheets was sent to Fort Slocum, N. Y., for his basic training and on August 14, 1939 was sent to Hawaii where he remained until October 1941, when he was sent to the Philippines. The last message that the parents received was a radiogram from their son, sent from Manila, December 24, 1941.

Bankers Elect Lake

Hubert B. Lake, cashier of the Tucker county bank, of Parsons since 1926, was elected president of the West Virginia Bankers Association, Group 26, at a recent meeting held in Clarksburg.

He has served as secretary and vice-chairman of the state association during the past two years.

Assigned to Ship

Mrs. Gertrude Hall, of Parsons has received word that her husband Homan Hall electrician mate, first class, has been assigned to the first lieutenant of gunnery on the U. S. S. Culebra Island, a repair ship commissioned on May 19, in Baltimore.

Soldier Is Drowned

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Moore, of Route 1, St. George, received a message from the War department stating that their son Denis Moore was drowned in the Asiatic area on May 16.

He was born June 29, 1924, in St. George. His mother Mrs. Florida Moore is seriously ill in a local hospital and has not been advised of her son's death.

Forests Remain Closed

Last year, for the first time since establishment, the Monongahela National Forest announced recreation and picnicking areas would not open. This was due to wartime reduction of funds, and because of gasoline rationing. This year, Ranger R. L. Rowland, United States Department of Agriculture, at Parsons, states the reason for keeping these areas closed are the same. There is another, added reason this year Army maneuvers are using Stuart Recreation area for an evacuation hospital. Apena Gap, Bear Haven and Bickle Knob Picnicking areas, and Stuart Memorial drive are also used heavily by the army on maneuvers problems.

Horseshoe Recreation area, in Tucker county, near Leadmine, is not affected by maneuvers. The area is not open, and there will be no administrator on duty. Toilets are closed, water and wood are not provided, and there are no rubbish receptacles. Because of these conditions anyone using the area must first secure a campfire permit. These can be had from the forest ranger, at Parsons, or from the forest supervisor, at Elkins. Fires cannot be built except in grates, and then only under permit.

Backbone Truck trail, leading from U. S. Route 219, to Douglas, is open. This is also true of the road leading into Fernow experimental forest, from opposite Hambleton.

If conditions later require locking the gates on these roads, an announcement will be made, Ranger Rowland said.

The Barton sailor inclosed a money order for $5 which he stated will help a little on the financial end of getting the latest county news to the rest of the boys overseas.

Shifted from the Cassino front to the Anzio Beachhead in Italy.

Pvt. Carl Ennis relates that the cigaret lighter sent to him by the letter league is far superior to the lighter sent to his buddies from other states. Ennis expressed pleasure over hearing that LaSalle won the basketball championship and added that there are several boys from Cumberland with him on the beachhead.

It's a Heck of a Place
Staff Sgt. August Robertson informs the league he is somewhere in Italy. "It is an alright place to be from but a heck of a place to be at," he remarks.

A V-mail letter from Staff Sgt. Floyd L. Summers contains congratulations for Chief Judge Sloan on the occasion of his retirement from the bench. "Eighteen years is a long time," Summers penned. "I hope the people will not forget where his shingle is hanging."

"Now that I can mention it, I saw the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius. It was quite a thrill. I have an actual picture I'm saving for you."

Letters Build Morale
Another V-mail communication received from Pvt. Donald Shepherd, who informs Gunter that it is his sixth letter of the day. "Letters are the best morale builders a fellow can get," Shepherd states. "But there are a few boys whose people just don't care about them at all and I really pity them."

Things like that make a fellow's heart harden towards everything I pray they never harden against God for although thy friends forsake thee, God will never leave nor forsake."

Saw Sarver before Death
Pvt. John R. "Dick" Mills praises the paratroops as a "swell" outfit. He comments on the death of Sgt. Homer C. Sarver, Cumberland youth, and says he was in the company of the South End sergeant a few days before he was killed. Hopeful that the invasion will soon get under way, Pvt. Mills adds "that the sooner we get it started the sooner we will win this war and be able to get home to the best city in the world."

"You can read more in the papers than I can tell you what we are doing," Lt. (jg) Walter L. Neal, of the navy writes.

"I've seen a lot of them go for their last swim in the beautiful Pacific and we are doing our best to tint the ocean bottom yellow with Japs."

Hopes to Tag All Bases

Cpl. Charles Hardy, with the engineers, hopes to tag all the bases and get home soon. "It's really no picnic being over here and we're all hoping it won't be long until we get back. Cumberland sure will look like a hurricane struck it when we come rolling in."

Kirke L. Simpson Says:

Hour for Red and Other Allied Attacks on Nazis Seems at Hand

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press War Analyst

Even without a Berlin admission that the battle for Rome is near its crisis, there is much to suggest that the hour for Russian and Allied attacks on other fronts, keyed in with that first major blow of the summer campaign in Europe, is about to start.

Moscow has reported a limited German offensive in the Iasi region of Romania which dented the Russian front. Iasi is a probable main jump-off spot for the impending Red army offensive aimed at the Galati gap gateway to the Danube valley, at Bucharest and at Ploesti. The Nazi attack apparently is a German attempt to disrupt the expected Russian drive and sap its force.

Nazi anticipation of the Russian move seems well warranted. Russian plans and Allied heavy bombers from Italy have renewed the attack on Ploesti in over-lapping relays.

Russian army chiefs, however, probably are more concerned at the moment with the Ploesti rail yards than the oil installations. For Ploesti is the primary communications hub upon which Nazi forces guarding the Galati gap must depend for supply or for escape if they fail to halt the Russian armies when they strike.

In Italy, there are indications that the Allied march on Rome is nearing the point set in Russian-Allied war councils for the start of greater assaults from the east and west. Renewed fighting in the Iasi sector between the Soviet and the Prut sound like preliminary skirmishes of the expected battle of Galati gap.

Most military observers, however, believe the main Russian contribution to the summer campaign will not fall in Romania but in Poland. It is there, north of the Carpathians and south of the marshes of the Pripiet, that probably the heaviest concentration of Russian power is nearing completion. That is the eventual Russian road to Berlin.

At what stage the developments, either in the east or in the south, the massive Anglo-American attack across the channel under General Eisenhower may be launched, none but highest Russian and Allied authority probably knows.

William James Dies After Severing His Jugular Vein

dict of Suicide for Meyersdale Man

By W. A. SHOEMAKER

MEYERSDALE, May 31—William Albert James, 72, retired Meyersdale miner, died yesterday morning about 11 o'clock shortly after he severed his jugular vein with a pen-knife in the bathroom of his home, 617 Beachy street, Meyersdale.

P. C. Dosch, Somerset, Pa., Somerset county coroner, issued a verdict of suicide and deemed an inquest unnecessary, according to Police Chief John Bittner, Sand Patch, William Givley, Somerset, county detective, assisted in the investigation.

Mr. James was of a kindly, genial disposition, and was held in high esteem, and it is difficult to ferret out the cause that prompted the act. Less than an hour before he died one of his neighbors was conversing with him and he was said to have been in the best of spirits. He was looking over his garden and did not seem to have a care in the world.

Mr. James was a resident of Meyersdale for many years, and until his retirement some time ago was engaged in mining. He was twice married. His first wife, Mrs. Amanda (Gray) James, and a daughter preceded him in death.

Surviving are his second wife, Mrs. Ida James, and these children by his former marriage, Mrs. Mary Reines, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Florence Lumadue, Elyria, Ohio; Mrs. Walter Garlitz, Altoona; Robert D. and Melvin C., all of Meyersdale; a half-brother, Matthew Hicks, Pinkerton; thirteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at the James home Friday at 2:30 p. m., the Rev. George L. Detweiler, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Waynesboro, Pa., officiating. Burial will be made in the Union cemetery, Meyersdale.

The lemur, a nocturnal prowler in African jungles, is about the size of a baby fox and its name in Latin means "ghost."

Mt. Savage Dead Are Honored by Colonel Caldera

Veteran of South Pacific
Officers at Dedication of Monument

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE
MT. SAVAGE, May 31 — Colonel Joseph Caldera officiated at the dedication of the monument in honor of Mt. Savage servicemen and women at Memorial Day services last night at the site of the monument in War Memorial square.

Colonel Caldera was granted special leave by his commanding general to attend the dedication.

In his address Col. Caldera stated that his only regret was that all the young men and women from the community serving in the armed forces from the "Arctic to the tropics" could not be present to take part in the ceremony. He spoke with reverence of those who were killed in the war, and added "In the future there will be more, but the sorrow that such tragedies cause is lessened by the knowledge that in every instance, their sacrifice was not in vain."

He stressed the fact that those who had died in action had been fighting for the very life that they had lived in Mt. Savage and they had given their lives so that their younger brothers and sisters would be able to live in the same happy, democratic way.

The monument is symbolic of the dedication of the people of Mt. Savage, Col. Caldera said.

Those in the service dedicated themselves to the defense of our country when they took their oaths as members of the armed forces, and the results of these personal dedications are apparent to the world today, from the epic story of the defenders of the Philippines to the newly begun attacks in the European theater, Caldera stressed.

On the home front he cited the work of the air spotters, who served continually, the air raid wardens, home guard, the mail worker, coal miner, farmer, and all of those who are doing their part in the service of the country.

In his address Col. Caldera impressed upon his audience that the love of home was the one thing that all the fighting men carried with them even in the midst of battle. He said that the monument "built from the stone of our own country by one of our own citizens" was a fitting pledge of eternal faith and gratitude to our members of the armed forces.

Praises Home Soldiers
"There are brave soldiers here, the ones who wait and pray, than some of us who have been away, that is why I know this a dedication of a monument and also of the people who caused it to be built."

If God in his goodness sees fit, I hope to be here on a happier day when all the boys and girls, the men and women, to whom we dedicate this monument will be here surrounding it. As one of the Mt. Savage service men and women, I thank you good people for all of us, for your friendship, for your prayers, and for this memorial," Col. Caldera concluded.

Col. Caldera returned several months ago after spending fifteen months in active duty in the South Pacific. He was awarded the Air Medal and Oak Leaf cluster for his achievements there. He is now stationed in Washington.

Others on the Memorial Day program were the Rev. Harris M. Waters, the Rev. Michael Smyth, Lester B. Reed, James E. Crump, James W. Beachum and Colin Bowers. Special tribute was paid to those who were killed in action and those reported "missing in action" and prisoners of war.

Father, 2 Sons Held in Murder

Mystery in Death Of Young Student

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 31 (AP)—A father who posted $500 reward for capture of a strange man accused by his daughter of killing her schoolboy companion and repeatedly raping her, curiously asserted his innocence today after being himself jailed with his two grown sons on charges of murder in connection with the case.

"I'm not guilty. That's all I can say," Roy Yates, father of the 17-year-old girl, told Mayor Don Campbell of Tullahoma, Tenn. Charged with the elder Yates were his sons, Dennis, 27, and Harold, 28. The girl was held as a material witness. All four were placed in a Nashville jail.

Authorities declined to explain the basis for the charges and District Attorney Diemer Lamb said he had not decided whether to call a special session of the Coffee county grand jury to consider indictments.

The Yates girl led Tullahoma officers on May 19 to a little-used road where the body of James Robert Sherrill, 17, was found. He had been shot to death.

She said she and Sherrill, students at the same high school, had gone to a motion picture show the previous evening and had driven to a spot on a road near Tullahoma when a shot from the darkness killed the boy. A man armed with a pistol then appeared, she related, forced her to help him arrange Sherrill's body in the car, placed a typewritten copy of a lewd poem in the boy's pocket, and then drove her about for six hours, raping her four times. Near dawn, she said, the man forced her to help hide the body in the bushes where it was found and released her.

At 7:30 a. m. the German wireless operator handed the commander a message. The latter informed Dos Santos that the answer was not definite and there would be a delay of half an hour.

"After a half hour, the German received word not to sink the ship."

"The boarding of the 227 passengers and 155 crewmen was completed about noon."

"Americans Taken Prisoners. "Complying with orders from the U-boat officer, Captain Dos Santos then sent the two United States citizens, Virgilio Magina, 23, a barber, of New Bedford, Mass., and Manuel Pinto, 22, Waterbury, Conn., to the submarine to be held prisoners."

"During the return of the passengers and crew to the ship the submarine lay nearby submerged except for its periscope until shortly after noon when it moved off to the east."

The handling of the boats and behavior of the crew was complimentary by U. S. officials who boarded the ship upon its arrival here and received the first report of the incident."

The Serpa Pinto has long been a refugee ship, plying the Atlantic since early in the war.

In 1941, on her second such voyage, she was ordered into Bermuda by a British war ship and held there for a three-day fruitless search for German nationals. She had more than 500 refugees aboard at the time.

In February, 1942, she was back in New York with more than 200 passengers, mostly Jewish refugees.

As recently as April 7 she was in Philadelphia, with 354 fugitives from Nazi terror, most of them headed for Canada.

Bengals Have Most Effective Right-Left Combination in League

By WATSON SPOELSTRA

DETROIT, May 31 (AP)—When the Detroit Tigers throw their one-two punch, they deliver a hard left in Southpaw Hal Newhouser and then come up from the floor with a right-hander in Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

In Trout and Newhouser, the Tigers have the most effective right-left pitching combination in the American League and one to be reckoned with in the currently tight pennant fight. The two hurled seven-hitters against the New York Yankees Memorial day, each gaining his second victory over the champions.

Careers Are Similar

Newhouser's record is seven victories and three defeats, and Trout has won six and lost four. The only other big Detroit winner is Johnny Gonsica, giving the Tigers a three-man pitching staff.

Both Trout and Newhouser are 4-F in the draft, and their major league careers are strikingly similar. In four seasons with Detroit, Trout was a notorious non-winner, but last season he acquired poise and pitching temperament and became a twenty-game winner with a fifth-place club. Only Spud Chandler, of the Yankees, matched that total.

Newhouser's first four seasons in Detroit uniform likewise failed to show a winning record, although he won nine and lost nine in Detroit's 1940 pennant year, his first full campaign in the majors. Last summer he won eight and lost seventeen, going nearly two months without a victory after pitching in the all-star game.

Pair Has Won 100 Games
The 33-year-old Newhouser, product of Detroit's sandlots, attributes his fast start to improvement in control, development of a new slider pitch and the constant guidance of Paul Richards, veteran backstop who helped Emil (Dutch) Leonard back into the big show several years ago.

Even with his big 1943 season, Trout is short of a 500 lifetime mark with fifty-nine victories and sixty defeats. Newhouser now has won forty-one and lost fifty-five. Together they have just 100 victories, but they seem destined to accumulate many more in 1944. Both are good bets to become twenty-game winners.

Half-Dozen Clubs

Form Junior Loop

Six clubs virtually completed reorganization of the Allegheny County Victory Junior Baseball League at a meeting last night at the Central YMCA.

Represented were Liberty Dairy by Melvin Mease; North End Playground Association by Ken Hopwood; Port Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, by Phil Fleming; Cumberland Knights of Columbus by Gorman Kelly; Love Post, American Legion, of Lonsconing by James Orr, and Parady Post, American Legion, of Frostburg, by Charles Cole.

Cumberland DeMoia, which had a spokesman at the previous meeting, was not represented.

It was decided that each team will play each other club twice during the season with all contests to be staged on Wednesdays and Fridays at twilight encounters. The campaign will get under way Wednesday, June 14, and another meeting will be held during the week preceding the opening.

Rosters were submitted by all of the clubs except Cumberland American Legion. Eligibility of players outside the county will be decided by the league's board of governors.

Stock Market Price Level Hits Highest Point in Five Years

By BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—Accelerated buying in rail and industrial leaders today lifted the stock market's average price level to a new five-year peak and boosted many of the favored issues fractions to around 2 points.

From the standpoint of the brokers it was one of the most auspicious sessions of a month that had been marked by a gradual climb in quotations with a considerable pickup in activity toward the end.

The day's news appeared to have no special connection with the rise, although brisk advances in bonds and commodities stimulated buying sentiment. There were indications of a broadened inflow of investment funds, with owners obviously responsive to the more confident feeling engendered by results of the Italian drive.

Rails and specialties paced the upturn in the early proceedings. Later the bidding spread to steels, motors, sugars, merchandising shares and many of the blue chips.

Rail loans showed the widest gains in the bond market. Higher in the Curb were Alminum of America, Cities Service, N. J. Zinc and American Cyanamid.

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—Grain futures closed higher today with traders attributing the strength to persistent small buying orders, short covering and a scarcity of offerings.
The government's report that general crop prospects were good to excellent affected what at the open but there was no material pressure and prices soon turned upward. Offerings were conspicuously light.

Studebaker Champion rates high with busy Federal law officer

HERE'S a letter from Frank M. Durrance of Orlando, Florida who says:
"My 1941 Studebaker Champion has been driven about 150,000 miles—at the lowest maintenance cost of any car I've ever owned. Whether across the country or across the nation, this dependable Studebaker is always ready to go on a moment's notice. Its gasoline mileage is consistently high and its materials and workmanship are the finest."

Yes, these war days, the tire-saving, gas-saving, soundly built Studebaker Champion is adding new luster to its great reputation.
Is it any wonder that all over America used Studebaker Champions, Commanders and Presidents are in such big demand now?

WHO WANTS ANGEL WINGS!

JAILER PERCY KILBRIDE admonishes Nelson Eddy and petticoated Constance Dowling in a hilarious scene from the fast moving comedy "Knickerbocker Holiday," at the Maryland theater through United Artists release.

Nelson Eddy Stars In Maryland Comedy

The Maryland theater opens its doors today to the looniest, funniest screen comedy of the year with the long awaited arrival of "Knickerbocker Holiday." Producers Corporation of America hit starring Nelson Eddy, Charles Coburn and Constance Dowling.

Adapted for the screen from the original hit Broadway production by Maxwell Anderson and Kurt Weill, "Knickerbocker Holiday" comes to the screen with all of the gay, bright humor which made the play such a popular success.

Set in the period of the early Dutch settlement of New Amsterdam, "Knickerbocker Holiday" poses in a laugh-filled fashion the problems of democracy in that early time when the colony was ruled by irascible old Peter Stuyvesant. This role is played to its merry hilt by Charles Coburn, beloved veteran character actor.

Opposing the heavy-handed rule

by the governor is swashbuckling, deval-may-care Brom Broeck, fighting newspaperman, played by Nelson Eddy. In a role admirably suited to his many talents, and one which permits him ample opportunity to sing the kind of songs his fans like best, Eddy turns in the greatest performance of his hit-filled career.

Constance Dowling is the girl in the case. A newcomer whose striking beauty immediately gains her a warm welcome, Miss Dowling is the recipient of the attentions of both Coburn and Eddy. And this particular triangle offers some of the most hilarious sequences in the film.

O'Doul Is Their Hero

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — The baseball hero to American Legion Junior players in this Mexican border town is Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, former major leaguer and manager of the San Francisco Seals. He sent them two dozen baseballs. A friend of O'Doul's, Matty Loughman, manages the local club.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Emma Leota McCullley Henderson, who passed away one year ago, May 31, 1943.

Some may think we are not lonely,
When times they see us smile,
But little do they know the heartache,
That we suffer all the while.

Our family circle is broken,
The voice we love is still,
Your place is vacant in our hearts,
No one can ever fill.

Flowers we place upon your grave,
Will wither and decay,
But our love for you who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.

Sadly missed by HER CHILDREN,
5-31-44

In loving memory of my dear husband,
George M. Twigg, who died May 31, 1943.

Dear husband, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
Your place is vacant in our hearts,
As you always were before.

Sadly missed by his wife
MRS. MARGARET A. TWIGG

GETS WRA POST—E. Price Steiding, formerly of Lonaconing, is now the manager of the New York District office of the War Relocation Authority, with headquarters in the Empire State building, New York city.

The government agency which he is associated with has charge of relocating loyal Japanese evacuated from the Pacific coast. Steiding was area director of the NYA at the time that federal agency was disbanded.

Former Local NYA Executive Relocates Evacuated Loyal Japanese

A former resident of Lonaconing, who held various positions with the National Youth Administration in Maryland up to the time the federal agency was liquidated, is now manager of the New York district office of the War Relocation Authority with headquarters on the fifty-third floor of the Empire State building.

E. Price Steiding, who occupied the position of area director of the NYA at the time the agency was discontinued, took over his present duties in New York city two weeks ago.

He went to New York on February 14 and after spending six weeks in the office of the WRA, was transferred to Arkansas where he was employed on one of the agency's relocation centers. He later was recalled to New York and was promoted to his present post on May 15.

The WRA performed the task of evacuating Japanese residents from the West coast, starting this job after the Japs' sneak attack on Pearl Harbor on orders from General DeWitt. Citizens and aliens were immediately placed in relocation centers at places far removed from the Pacific coast area. It is estimated that a majority of the American-born Japanese are loyal to this country and the job of the WRA now is to find jobs for those people throughout the Middle West and the East.

Steiding's territory includes New York city, upper New York State, including the cities of Troy, Albany and Schenectady, and parts of the states of New Jersey and Connecticut. There are approximately 750 Japanese classed as "loyal to the United States" residing in the New York territory at the present time.

DECISION EXPECTED SOON ON COMPLETION OF AIRPORT HERE

Washington, May 31. (AP)—Rep. Randolph (D-W. Va.) reported to colleagues today he was hopeful that twenty-eight airports in seventeen states on which work was stopped by the War department will be completed.

The West Virginian was chairman of a committee which called on President Roosevelt Saturday on behalf of 66 senators and representatives in whose states the airport developments are situated.

Work was stopped by the War department which had interpreted a budget bureau request for a re-survey of projects as a signal to defer them.

"We told the president," Randolph told other members of the group, that more than $4,000,000 in local sponsor funds had been obligated, that bond issues had been passed, notes signed, condemnation proceedings started and many persons dispossessed from the sites.

"It was information he had not had. I think he was impressed and he promised an immediate re-check of the projects involved."

Randolph said the projects would be considered en bloc and that he expected the president to announce some decision within a week or ten days.

The airports, involving expenditure of about $30,000,000, include: Danville, Va.; Martinsburg, Parkersburg, Wheeling and Wiley Ford, (Cumberland, Md.) W. Va.

Lt. Fred E. Graham Fails To Return From Raid May 19

War Department Reports Him Missing in Action over Germany

The War department Tuesday advised Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Graham, 219 Williams street, that their son, Lieut. Fred E. Graham, 23, a bombardier aboard a Flying Fortress, has been listed as missing in action over Germany since May 19.

In recent months, Lieut. Graham, a graduate of LaSalle high school in the class of '40, had been a bombardier on the Flying Fortress "My Day the Second," and he advised his parents in a letter written May 7 that he had started "on the last lap" of a goal of thirty missions.

Lieut. Graham enlisted in the army air corps in April 1941 and qualified as an air cadet in September of that year. He received his commission and wings as a bombardier in April 1943 at San Angelo, Texas, and was assigned to Childers field in Texas as an instructor.

He spent a furlough here in July of last year and went overseas in December 1943, starting missions in January. In letters home he told of failing to get over assigned targets on one or two early missions, and also that his crew had received a new ship. "I can't tell what happened to the old one," he wrote, "but we have a new one now."

It is apparent that Lieut. Graham's ship went down over Germany during the heavy pounding of Brunswick and Berlin on May 19. News dispatches of that date contained details of a mass attack by 1,500 American bombers and fighters. The reports stated 125 German planes were shot down at a cost of 26 bombers and nine fighters.

Lieut. Graham is the fourth member of the LaSalle class of 1940 to be listed as a casualty. The others are Sergt. Richard "Red" Rowan, Sergt. Dixie R. Harden and Pvt. James A. Swann.

Sgt. Rowan, also a member of a bomber crew, has since been reported a prisoner of the Germans after first being listed missing over Germany late in February. Sgt. Harden, U. S. Army Air Force, has not been heard from since being reported missing March 18, 1943, while serving in the Middle East campaign in the Mediterranean and North African area. Pvt. Swann has been a prisoner of the Germans since late in the winter of 1942-43.

Lieut. Graham's father, a linotype operator employed on the Cumberland Evening Times and vice-commander of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, received word his son was missing shortly after participating in yesterday's Memorial day exercises at Rose Hill cemetery. Lieut. Graham is a member of Fort Cumberland Squadron No. 13, Sons of American Legion.

Barton Soldier Dies in Action

Confirmation of the death of a Barton soldier was received last week in a War department telegram to Mr. and Mrs. George H. McVicker, Barton, that their son, Staff Sgt. Lester McVicker, about 25, was killed in action April 20, in the Mediterranean area when the transport on which he was traveling was sunk through enemy action.

On April 29, the Barton couple were notified that their son was among the missing when the transport was sunk in the Mediterranean April 20.

Soldier Loses Wallet Containing $120; Please Return It

If anyone has found a billfold containing $120, all in $20 bills, in the past week, it probably belongs to Staff Sgt. Basil W. Curtis, Camp Claiborne, La. The sergeant is staying at the Olympia hotel, North Mechanic and Baltimore streets, if the finder wishes to return it.

Sgt. Curtis arrived in Cumberland last Wednesday on furlough and Thursday night between 10 o'clock and midnight lost his billfold containing the money and identification cards.

On Saturday the sergeant was married and he figures he could use the money although he says there is a sizeable reward in it for the person who returns it to him.

Legion Announces Winners in School Bond, Stamp Sales

Allegany, Fort Hill, West Side and LaVale Share $150 in Bond Prizes

Two high schools and two elementary schools of Cumberland will share $150 in war bonds, representing prizes offered by the American committee of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, in the school war stamp and bond sale campaign which ended May 15, it was announced yesterday by David W. Sloan, chairman.

Final report on the campaign, issued by Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of Allegany county schools, showed that the high school contest was won by Allegany with total sales amounting to $13,037.60 and the average purchase per pupil for an enrollment of 1,439 was $9.06. This showing entitled Allegany high to a $50 war bond.

Fort Hill won runner-up honors and a $25 war bond with an average of $6.48 per pupil for an enrollment of 1,642.

West Side Wins $50 Bond

Top honors in the elementary school contest were annexed by West Side school, of which Miss Dorothy Shires is principal. Pupils of West Side won the $50 first prize by purchasing $2,750.40 worth of bonds and stamps, an average of $10.91 per pupil. LaVale school, Miss Nellie R. Powell, principal, took second prize of $25 in this division for the purchase of $2,147.65 worth of bonds and stamps, an average of $9.30 per pupil.

Pupils of two high schools and ten elementary schools participated in the contest which began November 11, 1943.

Winning schools were determined on a basis of the highest average-per-pupil purchase.

Rules provided that all purchases of bonds and stamps be for each pupil's ownership and that purchases not be made for any other person than for pupil himself.

In a letter to Dr. Kopp, Sloan stated that the "post is more than pleased with the results reported, and extends to you, your staff, and all the teachers and pupils that participated the most grateful thanks for the co-operation given."

Total sales of stamps and bonds in the twelve schools were $38,396.25 or an average of $5.68 for a total average enrollment of 6,760.

The final report of the campaign as tabulated by Dr. Kopp is as follows:

Whitman Favors Viaduct Plan

Baltimore, May 31. (AP)—Chairman Ezra B. Whitman of the state roads commission voiced approval today of Cumberland's proposal to ascertain the feasibility of plans for the postwar building of a viaduct for through traffic traversing that city.

A delegation headed by Mayor Thomas S. Post of Cumberland and including city councilmen and Dr. Thomas W. Koon, of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission told Whitman at a conference that they sought money from the state's $2,000,000 postwar planning fund to make up complete plans and supply needed rights-of-way.

"The money certainly is needed for that purpose," Whitman commented, saying that the group planned to make the request of Governor O'Connor.

Whitman said he was told the plans alone would cost between $6,000 and $7,000. The delegation said the city engineer would make an estimate of the cost of surveying needed rights-of-way before requesting O'Connor to allocate the funds.

The viaduct alone would cost an estimated $1,375,000, with approaches accounting for another $540,000. A deep cut on the eastern end of the city—to eliminate a steep hill on Route 40—would lead to the viaduct, from which ramps would permit ingress and egress to various sections of Cumberland.

The government asks that the chain, which operates approximately 160 theaters in New York, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio, be restrained from acquiring any more theaters and that "the contracts, combinations and conspiracies in restraint of trade and commerce practiced by the defendants be declared illegal and violative of the Sherman Anti-Trust act."
